Kes Family
Focus Student Center
Battambang, Cambodia

Three college students spent six weeks working at the Focus Student Center. They played games, practiced conversational English, travelled with, and discipled other college students from the area. These students served through our BSU summer mission opportunities. There is another request in for the summer of 2017 for 6 students from June 8 to July 28!

There is a need for Women's Ministry training there. They have requested help with marriage, roles in the church, and domestic related issues.

The Focus (Friends of Cambodian University Students) Student Center is praying about renovating so that their space is more functional. This would create a need for temporary space.

Saul Paul continues to travel to the many village churches and train the pastors and people. Pray for his travels and his time with their leadership. The economy is in such poor shape that many are moving to Thailand for work. Pray for these pastors and our leadership as they try to find creative ways to pastor their scattered flock.

There is also much political unrest. People in opposition are turning up missing or are being openly gunned down. Our personnel are making every attempt to stay politically neutral and to take advantage of the current governments openness to religious diversity. Many in the political opposition are pushing for Buddhism as the only acceptable religion in the country.

Pray for the openness of the University students as the Focus center attempts to build meaningful spiritual relationships.

Pray for the continued health of the Kes family!

Pray for the village churches as they attempt to reach the children in their area so they can experience a generational spiritual shift in their country!
