

Russanna Cook
Nursery Director

I first came to LFCN in 2003, while attending college. I graduated from Liberty University in 2004 with a degree in Religion and met my husband Brandon at LFCN during my senior year. We have two sweet and talkative children, Ryne and Lucy, who love LFCN just as much as we do.

Right away, LFCN became a second family for us and we have loved serving here. I felt so blessed when I was given the opportunity to serve here as nursery director and office administrator. I consider it a joy and privilege to serve families and children!
