

SPA NEWS

I was reading Google News and I came across an article from Mizoram, India. They have experienced the worst floods in 50 years and more than 100 homes have been swept away. I stopped and prayed for these people and the terrible devastation they have faced. I am asking you to please remember them in your prayers as well.

I couldn't help wondering: what kind of foundation these homes were built on. I know that severe flooding can destroy any home, but there is a greater chance of survival if the house is built on a firmer foundation.

In a similar way, we all know that that if you want to destroy a structure in society, you attack its foundation.

Let's be honest folks, the enemy has attacked all the pillars in society in a HUGE way. Family, sexual orientation and faith, as well as many other fundamentals that have come under extreme attack, and the structure is toppling.

During the summer months, we want to offer hope that our faith can remain strong even under these attacks. We will be going through a series that we are calling "Faith Builders". We will be addressing issues that need to be re-examined for our foundation to remain strong. Some of the questions we want to answer are how can our faith remain strong through the evolution debate and the sexual orientation debate? How can we stand when our faith is challenged in times of anxiety, depression and even persecution?

Maybe your faith has been shaken in the last little while. Can I encourage you that there is hope and there are answers? We want to stand with you and help you build your life firmly upon the foundation of Christ so that when those storms come and the water rises, your faith will not be swept away. Pastor Wes
