

Scotty Slaydon is a 1988 honors graduate from Jackson College of Ministries and served as missionary to the country of El Salvador from 1989 to 2006.

In El Salvador he supervised both a mobile medical clinic and a fixed location clinic. He has been involved in humanitarian ministry for 12 years in an organizational capacity as well as hands on involvement in more than 20 countries around the globe.

In 2007 he was named Director of Compassion Services International and has served in that capacity until the present.

