Adjunct Professor of Theology and Apologetics

"I believe that God has raised up Reason For Truth (NATC) and commissioned Steven Garofalo with a vision for taking apologetics into our rapidly changing culture. I have had the opportunity to speak with Steven at numerous conferences and can testify that his commitment, resolve, and passion to serve his calling to cultural apologetics are impressive. I believe that God has uniquely suited Steven for this mission and raised up Reason For Truth to provide answers for skeptics and equip believers by bringing both a compassionate and logical approach to defending the Christian Faith in our diverse and rapidly changing culture. It is for this reason that I stand with Steven Garofalo and Reason For Truth."
