A.M. Notes

#1 What Happens Immediately After Death (& How Do We Know)? 2 Corinthians 5:1-8

Scientific, philosophical, and theological skepticism has nullified the modern belief in heaven and replaced it with teachings that are minimalist, meager, and dry.

When a Christian dies, is he then in an unconscious state awaiting the resurrection? Or does he have a conscious existence living in heaven in an intermediate state between death and the resurrection? and how do we know?

The traditional view that our souls are separable from our bodies has been challenged by many scholars, including evangelicals.... I believe that one must have sufficient reason for denying or completely revising what the historic Christian church has affirmed as the teaching of Scripture and proclaimed to comfort millions of people who have mourned at gravesides.

The Intermediate State = refers to the existence of a believer between death and the resurrection.

Soul Sleep=when believers die they go into a state of unconscious existence, the next thing that they are conscious of will be when Christ returns and raises them to eternal life.

Materialism=that man is totally a material being. This is sometimes referred to as monism.

Monotheism teaches that there is One God

Monism teaches that there is only one reality or thing or substance

Christian dualism is the belief that human beings possess both body and soul/spirit and that when the body dies the soul/spirit continues to exist in a conscious state until the resurrection and the reception of a resurrection body.

Alvin Plantinga it seems to me to be perfectly conceivable that I can exist when my body doesn't.

What enters into the debate once again is one's view or take on the Bible. One's real view, not the one they spout when in church. Does it really affect, guide and direct their thinking....Many people (this includes some Christians) believe that what science cannot observe and substantiate does not exist.

Parenting: 14 Gospel Principles that can Radically Change Your Family

by Paul David Tripp

Wheaton: Crossway, 2016, 216 pp.

Most parents exist in a fog of exhaustion, frustration, and disappointment. We move from battle to battle with our children hoping that the tomorrow will be better, or that we will finally see the breakthrough that we have been hoping for. Even in the families that appear to have everything right, where their children are well mannered, well groomed, and docile, there are moments of bewilderment at the decisions our children make and the behaviors they exhibit. I know this to be true because I have talked to you, and because, well . . . I'm one of you.

Each day that my children grow older, it appears that headway is harder to come by. The strategies that worked when your children were young, when we were able to outmaneuver, outsmart, and physically impose our will on our children seem to wane in effectiveness as our children grow up and catch on. For many of us, our children are more savvy than we give them credit for, and so we end up being made to look like fools by them when they play us like a well-practiced instrument. So how do we parent our kids, young or old, amid these realities? How can we perform this impossible task? In this book, Paul David Tripp attempts to give us the principles that should dictate those answers.

Please understand, this is not a how-to book for parenting. Most of us would like that, we want someone to give us the magic words to say, or the most effective discipline strategy that will cause our children's hard hearts to melt and turn to us with affection and to the Lord in faith. Like me, many of you have probably read those books, and attempted to implement those strategies, with varying degrees of success, at least until the next blow-up occurs.

Tripp goes beyond that, this book is a "why" book. It provides the principles that should undergird our parenting decisions and strategies and establishes a biblically based, gospel centered foundation for Christian parents to evaluate their children and themselves. In it, Tripp emphasizes our primary role is not one of ownership over our children, but ambassadorship for the Lord. Our mission is one of rescue rather than creating well-mannered good citizens.

Most importantly, Tripp shows us convincingly that the main issues that we should be dealing with are not behavior issues, but heart issues. Too often, we spend all our time attempting to control or alter our children's behavior. We threaten, we punish, we reward, we bargain, and we even pray so that their behavior would change, all the while our children's hard, God-hating hearts remain full of sin that will only manifest itself in a different fashion later in life.

Thankfully, God in his mercy empowers us to faithfully be what he has called us to be as parents. This book, when read with healthy introspection, repentance, and prayer, will be a great tool for all families in reorienting our minds to the task at hand.

These principles are vitally important to understand, because if we fail to establish the correct motives and attitudes in our own hearts and then incorporate those principles into our parenting, we run the risk of raising polite, successful, patriots that will spend eternity in hell. The stakes are high, and we are woefully incapable of measuring up to the task in front of us. Thankfully, God in his mercy empowers us to faithfully be what he has called us to be as parents. This book, when read with healthy introspection, repentance, and prayer, will be a great tool for all families in reorienting our minds to the task at hand.

Whether your children are infants, or are about to leave home, this book will provide valuable insight that will allow you to redeem the time that you have with them for the glory of God. I urge you to read this book together with your spouse. Humbly discuss times where you have failed as parents with each other, and how you can help one another ensure that these principles guide you in your parenting.

This book will likely reveal areas in which you regularly fail as a parent, but it is not meant to beat you up, instead it will refresh you as it directs you toward our source of hope and grace, not just in salvation, but in parenting as well. Do not fear having these areas of failure exposed in your life, especially in parenting. After all, if you were to find out after framing your house that the foundation is not secure, you would not turn a blind eye and continue with the construction, you would change course immediately.

There are areas in which I must change course with my children. There are areas in which Tripp confesses that he has had to change course with his children, there will be areas where you will need to change course too. Allow this book to be an invaluable resource in the life of your family and in the most important job you will ever have so that our children might be built up together into an eternal monument to the goodness and faithfulness of God.

This $25 book is on the platform, available for only $15!

It has been a long five plus months of chemo. I finally finished this past Tuesday. It has been rough but with God's help and will, I made it. I will start radiation within 2 weeks. I want to thank you all for you faithful prayers, cards, calls, gifts, visits and food. You have blessed my heart and I LOVE you all. I can't wait to get back to church to fellowship and worship with my wonderful Church Family. Sylvia Blue

Thank you so much for the basket of goodies. I appreciate the encouragement and love from all of you. It's always a good reminder to know that I have people praying for me!
Thank you again for thinking of me!

SECRET CHURCH

KNOW HIS WORD. KNOW HIS PERSECUTED.

Secret Church will be held on Friday, April 21, from 6:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. in the fellowship hall. David Platt will once again be hosting, and the topic will be Scripture and Authority in the Age of Skepticism. Just recently, the cover of Time magazine asked the question, “Is Truth Dead?” In this age of skepticism, no question could be more important than that of biblical authority and truth. According to the Secret Church website, the topic will center around the following discussion:

The Bible is the foundation for faith among followers of Christ in churches around the world. Yet many such Christians never think to ask why this is the case. After all . . .

- How did we get this holy book?
- Who decided what would and wouldn't be included in it?
- How do we know it's true? Are there any errors in it?
- Is it necessary? Is it sufficient? Is it authoritative for my life?
- How can I understand it?

Even as Christians ask and answer such pivotal questions, the culture around us asks even more pressing questions: Isn't the Bible antiquated and outdated? Isn't it chauvinistic and offensive? Isn't it downright deceptive and ultimately dangerous?

During this Secret Church, we will explore answers to critical questions about the Bible in order to discern what place it should (or should not) have in the lives of Christians and the implications those answers have for our lives, our families, and our churches in the culture around us.

Please make plans to join us for this very special study. Secret Church is always a time of blessed fellowship, gastronomic fortitude due to the preponderance of “good” food that we will be consuming, and a marathon of endurance for the 6 hour Bible study. Grab a quick nap early in the day and plan to join us for the long haul.

Dean McCraw is so grateful for the food, prayers, and all the love shown as Beverley undergoes chemotherapy. He says you can tell by looking at him how much he has enjoyed it! They are all thankful for their church family.

The schedule for twice-weekly meals has been extended, as this round of chemo has really sapped Beverley's energy, and the meals help take a little pressure off the family! To sign up, go to www.takethemameal.com and use McCraw as the last name and password.

Missionary of the Week

Ralph & Elaine Elliott Cru - Turkey

Ralph and Elaine's outreach efforts are directed to the business community of Istanbul, Turkey. They have made some significant steps in the ministry, including a monthly meeting for Turkish Christians in the business community. Elaine holds a Bible study for Turkish women professionals. During the week, the Elliotts host an English conversation group for the purpose of helping them build stronger relationships with the Turkish people as well as helping the Turks learn better English. Along with the classes, they will sometimes hold seminars with topics ranging from the origin of life, intelligent design, healthy relationships and the role of God in our world. In February, they held their Transformers Network (TraNet 2017) for young Christian professionals, and had 230 registered from all over their part of the world, some coming from China, Cambodia, Eastern Europe and Central Asia.

Please pray for:

1. The 1500 contacts they have acquired in their database! They recently had their eleventh straight "Istanbul Young Professionals Summer Outreach". It is promoted as an English Festival to the local Istanbul community.
2. New relationships formed. The Elliotts were assisted this year by many Christians who visited Turkey just to help with this event. These came from the U.S., Kazakhstan, and China, and were able to spend time with the participants even outside of class.
3. The people who have trusted Christ through their ministry in recent years.
4. More and more proficiency in the Turkish language.
5. Their children to continue to grow in Christ.
6. Their recent Leader Led Movements conference met to formulate and continue strategies related to their calling and vision. LLM is an assortment of strategic ministries to adults and leaders in the urban areas of Turkey.
7. Fruit from their TraNet conference in February. In their latest letter, they said, "We would ask your prayers that God would enable us to form a group of volunteer laborers (beginning with the attendees from TraNet) that would coalesce into a group that could effectively serve as a force reaching out and making a difference among the young professionals of Turkey and beyond."
